Strategies to help ensure your assets last a lifetime

Identifying Your Sources of Retirement Income

Now that you have an idea of what you want to do, it's time to see how much you'll be able to afford to do. What sources might you have to create your "paycheck" in retirement?

List as many sources as you have, plus assets and accounts that could be converted into income. Indicate time frames where applicable.

Lifetime Income	Description/Timing	You	Spouse/ Partner
Social Security		$	$
Pension Plans		$	$
Fixed Annuities		$	$
Other		$	$

Estimating Your Retirement Expenses

Write down approximate monthly expenses you will—or might—have in retirement. Take into account your lifestyle and goals, and identify which expenses are essential (must have) and which are discretionary (nice to have).

If you prefer, just give an overall “best estimate” for each category.

		You	Spouse/ Partner	Is it essential?	Is it discre- tionary?	Will it vary over time?
Housing Best estimate: $ _____	Mortgage/Rent	$	$
	Taxes
	Insurance

Assessing Your Comfort with Investment Risk

It's important to take a fresh look at how much investment risk you are comfortable with as you near retirement. Since most investments fluctuate over the short term, you'll want to think about how a drop in your investment portfolio could impact your retirement plans.

Please answer the following four questions:

1 If the investment you made kept pace with the world financial markets but still lost value during the first year, what would you be likely to do with your assets in that investment?

- Sell less than 25% of the investments in my account.
- Sell 25% to 50% of the investments in my account.
- Sell 50% to 75% of the investments in my account.
- Sell more than 75% of the investments in my account.
- Wouldn't make any changes.

2 Based on your tolerance for fluctuations in the market, as well as your overall investment goals, how comfortable are you with risk in your portfolio?

Less Risk

More Risk

3 How would you rate your investment knowledge?

4 How actively do you want to manage your portfolio?

Let's work together to plan for what's next.

Guidance provided by Fidelity's Planning and Guidance Center is educational in nature, is not individualized, and is not intended to serve as the primary basis for your investment or tax-planning decisions.

If any of the expenses you list has an end date that is prior to the end of your plan, please be sure to indicate that information to the Fidelity Workplace Planning and Guidance Consultant you work with, or go online to the retirement planning tools and edit the appropriate information indicating any fluctuation for the expenses you indicated.

Note: Planning and Guidance Center makes different tax assumptions for the various types of accounts/assets entered. More detailed information regarding these assumptions can be found within the online version of this tool under Methodology or can be provided by the Fidelity Workplace Planning and Guidance Consultant who contacts you. Please consult your tax advisor if you have any questions regarding the taxability of your assets.
